ABOUT

I write for travel products: the labels, the notifications, and the awkward moments when a stay falls through. Clear when it has to be. Warm when it can be.

CONTENT DESIGNER AND STRATEGIST

9 years in consumer travel. I shape the language people use to choose, book, and recover when something goes wrong, and the systems that keep that language consistent. I partner with design, product, engineering, research, and legal. I use AI daily to draft, scale, and check language.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Content Designer II

Aug 2022 – Present

Expedia Group

- Led UI content for Expedia Travel Shops and Curated Trips: two-sided language for creators and travelers across onboarding, collections, discovery, errors, empty states, and confirmations
- Built naming and terminology systems so overlapping save models (Shop, collection, trip) stayed distinct in the product
- Wrote travel-protection UI (WeatherPromise and related products) under legal and supplier constraints: what the product can claim, what it must not, and how that holds across markets
- Rewrote 14 Vrbo push notifications as one voice, including when a booking is declined or canceled; presented the work with a content design director and a PM to the President of Brands
- Partnered with product designers in Figma to prototype content hierarchy, interaction patterns, and in-product messaging
- Built custom AI agents in Cursor to pull product data and draft UX content at scale; use AI daily for prototyping, Figma content, and multi-market consistency, and have shared those workflows with other content designers

TOOLS

Content Manager

Apr 2021 – Aug 2022

Expedia Group

- Owned voice, tone, and style guidelines used across internal tools and customer-facing product experiences
- Led taxonomy and information architecture in a complex support ecosystem; established governance so distributed writers stayed consistent
- Rewrote about 100 traveler-facing articles into reusable components for classic help and chatbot answers
- Managed and mentored writers; used research to inform content decisions

Senior Content Designer

Sep 2019 – Apr 2021

Expedia Group

- Defined content strategy for customer-facing support, improving clarity across complex workflows
- Partnered with product, engineering, and design to turn technical concepts into accessible user-facing language
- Presented content strategy and rationale to stakeholders to drive alignment

Content Writer

Jul 2017 – Sep 2019

Expedia Group

- Wrote and maintained customer-facing help content, with titles and taxonomy that matched how travelers ask questions
- Developed style guidance and managed taxonomy and information architecture to improve findability
- Used feedback and performance insights to improve content quality; supported onboarding of new writers
